While all meetings are open to the public, the privileges of membership allow you to participate in the following activities:

Receive a quarterly Society newsletter loaded with rose culture tips and information on CRS happenings.

Rose photo contest: we print a high-quality rose calendar annually that features winners from this contest.

Yearly rose sale enables members to acquire the newest roses on the market at great price reductions, many of which are not available at local nurseries.

Private tours of members' rose gardens throughout the state.

Field trips to in-state and out-of-state public rose gardens.

Summer picnics and rose propagation workshops on grafting and hybridizing.

Participation in the Yankee District Convention, held in March, an event that brings together rosarians from the Northeast in an educational-social setting.
